

THE RECORDER.

MR. WILL HILL IS NOT A CANDIDATE.

Mr. Andrew Calhoun enters the fight. The other candidates—Judge Kontz's Position.

Mr. William P. Hill has withdrawn from the recorder's race, under circumstances highly creditable to this well-known young man.

His friends have satisfied him that it would be folly for him to exchange one of the best practices possessed among the young lawyers of the city for the routine duties and less lucrative work of the recorder's court.

Several of Mr. Hill's friends some time since suggested to him that he make the race for recorder, and for a while he thought seriously of doing so. But after considering the matter fully he has decided not to make the race, taking the advice of many of the oldest and most prominent of his colleagues at the bar.

No young lawyer in the city ranks higher than does Mr. Hill, and from a professional and business standpoint, there is no question but that he has acted wisely in refusing to let his practice be interfered with.

The following card from him will explain itself:

EDITOR CONSTITUTION: My name having been mentioned in your columns as a candidate for recorder of the city of Atlanta, I ask you to do me the kindness to publish this communication. It is true, I thought of being a candidate for that office, and received a number of hearty supporters from my friends, which was gratifying to me; but after duly considering the matter, I have concluded to give my attention to my duties as a lawyer, and to let office seeking alone. Very truly,
WILLIAM P. HILL.
Atlanta, Ga., December 18th, 1890.

ANDY CALHOUN IN IT.

Mr. Andrew E. Calhoun, one of the brightest and most popular members of the bar, has announced for the position, and has inaugurated a vigorous canvass. He has already received assurance of support from several of the members of the new court.

Mr. J. N. Bateman and Mr. W. J. Albert, both of whom are strong and popular members of the bar, will likewise run.

ABOUT JUDGE KONTZ.
Recorder Kontz has not yet announced that he will be a candidate for re-election, and when asked by his friends if he is going to do so, says, "I may, and I may not."

Judge Kontz has recently been made the general counsel of the Pullman Car Company for the state of Georgia, a position of great honor and responsibility for one so young, but one which the distinguished young attorney will fill with entire satisfaction.

If Judge Kontz runs there will be four in the field.

If he does not, there will be three.

And it may be that the entries are not all yet in.

BRONCHITIS

Is inflammation of the bronchial tubes—the air-passages leading into the lungs. Few other complaints are so prevalent, or call for more prompt and energetic action. As neglect or delay may result seriously, effective remedies should always be at hand. ## Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

C. O. Loper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skillful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine, saying he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This indisputable evidence of the great merit of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has given me unbounded confidence in the preparation, and I recommend it to my customers, knowing it cannot disappoint them."

"Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cured me of a bad cough and my partner of bronchitis. I know of numerous cases in which this preparation has proved very beneficial in families of so that the medicine is known among them as 'the comforter of the afflicted.'—Jaime Rufus Vidal, San Cristobal, San Domingo.

"A short time ago, I was taken with a severe attack of bronchitis. The remedies ordinarily used in such cases failed to give me relief. Almost in despair of ever finding anything to cure me, I bought a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was helped from the first dose. I had not finished one bottle before the disease left me, and my throat and lungs were as sound as ever."—Geo. B. Hunter, Altoona, Pa.

THE DOLL BAZAAR.

THE UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT AT THE Y. M. C. A.

A Concert Tonight with a Splendid Programme—A Candy Pulling Tomorrow. News of Society.

The bazaar which has been advertised to be given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association will open this evening with a very superior concert in the lecture hall of the association building. Some unusually fine talent has been engaged, and it will, undoubtedly, prove an occasion affording great artistic enjoyment. After the concert refreshments will be served.

On Saturday, at 1 o'clock, a dinner will be prepared for business gentlemen and those friends interested in the Young Men's Christian Association. At 3 o'clock a candy pulling will be given to the children of the city, which will be followed by a doll marriage. Tickets will be given to the children present. The little girl holding the winning number will be presented with a handsome doll; the boy holding the winning number will be given a handsome present.

Only 25 cents will be charged for this delightful afternoon's entertainment, and it will undoubtedly be largely patronized, as the children cannot afford to allow so splendid an opportunity for enjoyment to pass unattended. The candy will be ready for pulling promptly at 3:30 o'clock, so the children must be there promptly.

In connection with the above-mentioned attractions, booths filled with beautifully dressed dolls and other fancy Christmas articles will be arranged in the parlors of the building, and the ladies of the city are earnestly requested to come thither in their search for Christmas presents.

The proceeds of this enterprise will go to the Young Men's Christian Association, and under its present skillful management, it will certainly prove a most gratifying success.

Those ladies who have promised donations and who have taken dolls to dress, are requested to send them in as early this morning as possible.

A notably brilliant and enjoyable reception was that at the executive mansion last evening, tendered by Governor Northen to the members of the legislature and their families.

The scene was a very bright and pleasant one, physically typical of Georgia hospitality and, withal, of excellent and cultured taste.

The parlors were brilliantly lighted, and the floral decorations were elegant.

The attendance of legislators was very large. Governor and Mrs. Northen received, assisted by Miss Northen, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Northen, Mrs. Albert Cox, Mrs. George Traylor, Miss Lizzy Traylor, Mrs. G. M. Couper, Mrs. E. W. Martin, Miss Ella Powell, Miss Lizzy Hillyer, Miss Minnie Hillyer, Mrs. R. N. Martin, Mrs. C. M. Neel and Miss Mary Neel.

Quite a number of ladies were amongst the callers during the evening. Mrs. J. J. Simmons, Mrs. Dr. I. H. Hand, Mrs. J. R. Smith, Mrs. Judge T. M. Meriwether, Mrs. Stanhope Sams and others.

The spacious reception rooms were crowded during the evening. In the parlors, for the popularity of the new executive home.

Mr. Sam Hall's dinner party of last evening, in honor of Mr. McAllen Marsh, was a most delightful affair. Twelve covers were laid, and all present spent a royal time.

Miss Cornelia Jackson will leave next Tuesday for Athens, where she will spend the Christmas season. Miss Jackson is a most charming young lady, and Atlanta will miss her bright presence much.

Miss Nellie Fuller, who has been visiting Miss Jackson, left last Sunday for her home in Cincinnati. She won for herself much popularity while here, and her many friends will ever hold her in most pleasant remembrance.

The Misses Bagley and Brock, who were the guests of Mrs. Clarence Knowles, have also returned to their homes, carrying with them many good wishes. They were the recipients while here of many charming attentions, and their departure is much regretted.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robertson have returned from a very delightful wedding tour through the principal southern cities. They entertained a number of their friends most pleasantly last evening.

Miss McKinley's select school closed on Thursday for the usual Christmas week holiday. The session just closed has been one of the most successful in the history of this favorite school. The highest yearly average was attained by Jay Youngblood, and this studious young gentleman received a handsome silver watch as a prize.

Little Ray Cohen, the bright little daughter of Mr. Frank J. Cohen, received the gold medal for highest term average in the first grade. The roll of honor comprised the names of Jay Youngblood, Ray Cohen, Nora Millett, Lute Hunnicutt, Julian Baxter, Robert Miller, Willie French, Edward Inman, Tom Hall, Joseph Kingsley, Virgil Iverson, John C. Kirkpatrick, Austell Thornton, John Turner, Gordon Foreacre, Jennie Gray and Hugh Kirkpatrick.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, after a very pleasant visit with friends in LaGrange, have returned home.

Miss Estelle Debridge, who is now the guest of Miss Adelaide Youngblood, will leave for Texas shortly after the holidays.

Miss Flora Shaw, who has been visiting friends in the city, has returned to her home in Rome, Ga.

Invitations have been received in Atlanta to an elegant reception to be tendered to Dr. and Mrs. Cornelius Hardy at Gilmer hotel, Columbus, Miss., this week. Mrs. Hardy has very many friends in Atlanta.

The Misses Emily and Janie English will give a very enjoyable dance during the holidays.

Messrs. Gene Black, Henry Grady and Fred Lewis will return from Athens on Friday, to spend the holidays.

The N. S. Club will give a dance during the holidays, complimentary to the young ladies who are at home from school to spend the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Dr. William King has returned from New York.

SPARTA, Ga., December 18.—[Special.]—The marriage last night of Miss Zella Moore to Mr. Marshall H. Gault was an interesting social event in the county. The bride is the daughter of Captain Elbert T. Moore, the groom a successful young farmer and foreman of The International office. Rev. A. W. Williams, of Thomson, Ga., officiated in making the happy couple one. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock p. m., at Granite farm, the residence of Captain Moore, in the presence of a large assembly of friends, and the evening culminated in a splendid wedding supper, given in honor of the occasion. The many friends of the young couple throughout the Hancock county and this section of the state will follow them with best wishes for prosperity and happiness.

Rome, Ga., December 18.—[Special.]—A delightful card party was given at the suburban home of her parents. The entertainment was complimentary to her friend, Miss Cobb. Bright foliage and beautiful flowers were to be found arranged, and beautiful minuettes artistically swung from the chandeliers. Delicious refreshments were served.

Those invited were: Misses Marie Thomas, Rena Barry, Willie Bell, of Atlanta; Misses Scay, Elise Atwood, Bessie Berry, Annie Freeman, Lillie Cawley, Della McWilliams, Alice Freeman, Pearl McWilliams, Hattie Freeman, Georgia Freeman, Estelle Mitchell, Bessie Hoyt.

RESACA, Ga., December 18.—[Special.]—One of the most beautiful and brilliant marriages that has occurred in north Georgia this season was solemnized in this city at 1 o'clock this evening. The contracting parties were Mr. H. J. Smith, of Chattanooga, and Miss Bern Hill, of Resaca. The scene was a well-known knight of the city, and the bride, the belle of the city, was the daughter of Mr. H. J. Hill. The attendants were: the groomsmen, Messrs. J. A. Smith, D. W. Jones, W. H. Stroup and W. T. Haskins; the bridesmaids, Misses J. A. Smith, D. W. Jones, W. H. Stroup and W. T. Haskins; the best man, Mr. H. J. Smith, pastor of Centenary church, at Chattanooga, officiated. After the ceremony a beautiful repast was served. The local band serenaded, and all was merry.

THAT BLOODY HAND.

An Anxious Inquiry About It From Athens, Ga.

That ghastly hand. A week or so ago when it was found it created a little sensation.

It has been heard from in Athens, and has caused something of a sensation there.

The story of the finding of the hand, which had been amputated by Dr. Westmoreland from the person of a railroad man, who was injured between two freight cars, will doubtless be remembered.

The hand was afterward returned to its owner, who doubtless gave it a fitting burial. But here is an inquiry about the hand from Athens. It is novel and interesting:

STREET RAILWAY DEAL.

Rumors That the Thompson-Houston Company Will Buy the Fulton County Lines.

Here is a rumor, and there is good ground for it, of a big deal in street railway property. It is that the lines of the Fulton County Street Railway Company have already been, or are about to be, sold.

According to the talk, the Thompson-Houston Electric Company is the purchaser. Gentlemen connected with both the street railway and electric companies were asked about the rumored deal, but none would talk upon the subject for publication.

The tone of their remarks, however, indicated that there was something in the talk of the deal.

EXPECTANCY

is just the condition of every lady in Atlanta now — with special reference to Christmas morning.

Gentlemen should not hesitate long in selecting the proper thing, a Stevens' watch, for instance. These are made up in various styles, some enameled with flowers and leaves in colors, others mounted with diamonds. Think of it, a solid gold watch with diamond solitaire only $37.50. As for engraved or other fancy styles of Stevens' watches, they can be obtained in solid gold from $20 up. In the matter of diamonds we simply exhibit the largest stock in Atlanta, and quote the lowest prices for pure stones.

We have a large variety of cheaper articles, pretty, odd things from $3 to $5, that will suit the demands of the most economical purchasers.

Call on us before buying. J. P. STEVENS & BRO., Jewelers, 47 Whitehall St.

CHRISTMAS CHEER.

ANTA CLAUS SENDS TIDINGS OF COMFORT AND JOY.

The Newboys Will Have a Christmas Dinner with Their Christmas Tree—A Telegram from Kris.

The newboys' Christmas tree will be set up in the hall on the 24th of December, and the Santa Claus will be on hand to take charge of the tree. There will be fruit on the tree for every Newboy in Atlanta, and there will be no end of fun in gathering it.

Those of the contributors to the tree who are unable to be present when it is unveiled, will enjoy to the utmost the privilege of helping to make this an occasion of comfort and joy.

The people of Atlanta have done handsomely for the boys, and the CONSTITUTION does not propose to be behind in the good work. The Christmas tree ought to be accompanied with solid comfort for the inner Newboy, and to meet this necessity the CONSTITUTION has arranged to have a Christmas dinner served in full view of the Christmas tree.

Mrs. D. Strauss, who had charge of the dinner, the grocers' banquet and other affairs of the kind at Concordia hall, has consented to take charge of the newboys' dinner on the 24th, and Concordia hall has been engaged for the occasion. This insures an elegant and beautiful repast, as those who were present on the former occasions will testify.

As the tables will be long Santa Claus has been requested to assist Mrs. Strauss in preparing over the company, and he has agreed to do so.

By the way, a word or two about Santa Claus will not be out of the way. It came to the CONSTITUTION that he was a very heavy individual, and might not be able to climb ordinary stairs. It was learned yesterday from an authoritative source that his weight is exactly 400 pounds. At first the CONSTITUTION thought this an exaggeration, but it proves to be the literal fact. It becomes necessary, therefore, to put in some extra supports for the stairs leading up to Concordia hall, and additional staging will have to be built under the door. Carpenters have been engaged for the work and it will proceed with the utmost dispatch.

The CONSTITUTION has received an aerial telegram from old Kris, to the effect that he will bring his reindeer, though he may not be able to get them up stairs. He says they would follow a chimney and leap out of the fireplace, and he would induce them to descend into the chimney out of a coal fire, and even if they were disposed, they are too fat to squeeze through the narrow opening of a grate. He concludes his dispatch with the statement that the famous animals will be visible on the street just before he makes his way into Concordia hall.

This is the first time old Kris ever condescended to send a telegram, and even this he would not deign to send over the wires by the ordinary methods. He used the occult and mystic method of induction and earth currents, sometimes successfully attempted by operators of rare skill, when a train is caught in a snow bank and the nearest wire is twenty feet away.

Quite a number of the newboys' friends have expressed a desire to witness the festivities, and the occasion will be one of delightful interest. After the tables have been fully dressed, there will be five minute speeches by several gentlemen who know all about Newboys, and will have some interesting things to say. They will have to look well to themselves, because there are several of the newboys to speak, and if they speak like they speak, nothing that walks on two legs can beat them. The speaking will not last long, and most of the time will be given to the dinner and the unveiling of the tree. The colored newboys will not be forgotten. They will have a Christmas tree and a Christmas dinner presided over by their friends, and the newboys who conducted the Christmas dinner so happily for them two years ago. A suitable hall will be provided and everything will be done to make their Christmas a happy one.

THE BRANCH COLLEGES.

THE SENATE STANDS BY THOSE ALREADY ESTABLISHED.

But Backs Down from Its Demand for More—About the Technological School.

The branch colleges are five! Same as heretofore. That's the dictum of the senate. The solution is that offered by the finance committee, to whom the matter was referred Wednesday evening.

It passed, under the pressure of a great deal of business pending, with little preliminary speech making and practically without opposition.

That leaves the branch colleges appropriated in this shape:

To State university, for support and maintenance of the—branch college, at Dahlonega, $1,000; branch college at Milledgeville, $2,000; branch college at Thomasville, $2,000; branch college at Cuthbert, $2,000; branch college at Hamilton, $2,000.

With this amendment, by President Mitchell. That none of said branch colleges appropriated under any pretext whatever, whether as tuition, matriculation fee, incidental expenses or otherwise, shall charge exceeding the sum of $10 per year or $3 per term for each pupil; provided further, that any of said branch colleges charging an amount in excess of amount above provided for shall forfeit the whole amount of the appropriation for the year in which said excess of charges shall be made; and the governor shall withhold his warrant upon the treasury for the same.

The Technological School.

But the queerest fight—The most original—The strangest fight made on the educational appropriations was that by Senator Irvine, of the forty-second.

It was a legislative curiosity. The finance committee had taken the Technological school appropriation at the figure of the house, $22,500.

Senator Irvine, who is a school teacher, wanted it reduced to $13,000. He took as a basis for his estimate the reports of the lunatic asylum and of the academies for the blind and for the deaf and dumb, showing the cost to the state per capita per day of the patients at these institutions.

Therefore, he argued, the Technological school students ought to cost so much, an equal amount per day per capita.

The senator then went ahead to talk up Emory college, where, he said, a technological school was established several years ago. This school asked nothing of the state. The tolling maces were not taxed for the support of that school.

It was almost self-supporting. It was doing good to the whole state. Its cost was phenomenally small. Then this school was established, breaking down the technological school at Emory.

Another notable feature about the estimate of $13,000 is that an income for the support of the school was expected from the damage to desks and furniture—there being a rule to fin students for dirt.

This damage-to-furniture fund, instead of going to repair or replace the furniture, was to support a great public institution.

Quite a number of speeches were made; all in favor of the school, and then Senator Irvine's amendment was voted down overwhelmingly.

Overcoming Prejudice.

Prejudice is a sad trait of human nature. A person whose mind is bent on bias does himself great injustice. Said a sick man, whose blood seemed to him from the effects of blood poison, "I can't help my prejudice. I have tried half a dozen remedies, and they did me no good. I believe all blood purifiers are humbugs." "Do you believe all physicians are humbugs, too?" asked the writer. "No, I have tried several different doctors, and only grew worse under their treatment. I have made up my mind my case is incurable and death inevitable." However, the writer, who was a friend of the suffering individual, at last succeeded in overcoming his prejudice and persuaded him to give Dr. John Bull's Sarsaparilla a trial. He commended its use with no faith at all, but good effects soon followed, and its continuance brought complete relief. Reader, go thou and do likewise.—Independence Press.

HOW FLUES KEEP AGAIN, IT IS EVILS OF the great squares of flues that result in the kitchen pipe. It is astonishing that a sensible man will not provide all the good brick chimneys which is regarded as the best for heating, and that kitchen, where an irreparable charge, a cheap fire runs, and the resting upon the rafters the flues are numerous. Many of them are the accumulation of the rafters and the joint of breath of wind on a cold day. Now, detached from the main, and yet a double smoke, except through the chimney, a much lower would be required of such a flue.

EFFECT OF THE BILL.

MR. JOEL HURT PRESENTS SOME INTERESTING POINTS.

He Gives His Views Upon the Insurance Bill, What the Association and Local Boards Do—Improvement of Buildings.

What will be the effect of the insurance bill? How will it effect the companies; and will it benefit the people? These are questions being asked on all sides.

The supposed effect of the passage of such a bill upon the Georgia fire insurance companies, those chartered by the state, has entered to a great extent in the discussion, and it is evident that the position of the local companies is not clearly understood.

If there is one man in Atlanta who can speak from experience on this phase of the question, it is Mr. Joel Hurt, president of the United Firewriters' Insurance Company, and secretary of the Atlanta Home Insurance Company.

In reply to a request for his views of the pending bill, Mr. Hurt said:

"I do not believe the passage of the bill would result in a reduction in the amount of premiums paid in the state. The aim of local boards of the Southeastern Tariff Association is to place every risk upon its merits, by fixing the minimum or basic rate for the best risk and charging for deficiencies that may appear in each risk according to schedule. In this manner parties who are disposed to observe proper building laws and really wish to do themselves and their neighbors substantial benefit, are enabled to reduce the chances of fire, and are enabled to insure their properties at proportionately low rates. The property owner who is indifferent to those defects which call for extra charges necessarily has to pay a higher rate, and naturally would favor the passage of a bill which would operate differently from the one now before the legislature. The Southeastern Tariff Association, which all cotton warehouses were rated about equally, according to classes. A brick, metal roof warehouse, which might be worth 4 per cent, was written at the same rate as one worth 1.50. This was manifestly unjust to the man whose risk was worth only 1.50, because he must be called upon to pay something in excess of the value of his risk in order to enable the companies to carry the risk worth 1."

HOW PLUMS EFFECT THE RATE. "Again, it is universally conceded that one of the great sources of fires in dwellings is the fire built in the kitchen to receive the stove-pipe. It is astonishing, when we think of it, that a sensible man will build him a nice house and provide all the rooms throughout with gas-burners, and then, when it comes to the kitchen, which is regarded as the very best arrangement for heating, and that he will build in his kitchen, where an irresponsible servant is in charge, a cheap stove running through the roof and resting upon the rafters. Nine-tenths of these fires are more or less dangerous. Many of them are cracked and allow the accumulation of gas, which is liable to explode, and the result is a fire. Now, detached frame dwellings are rated equally, and yet a dwelling that has no such fire and no arrangement for the escape of smoke, except through the chimney, can be written at a much lower rate, with profit, than would be required of a dwelling containing such a fire.

"The charge for frame dwellings in the country is 1 per cent per annum, and I have had to find the company that claims to have made any money on them for a term of years. It is quite true, and an almost universal rule, that all of these dwellings, otherwise unobjectionable, would be accepted by the Southeastern Tariff Association at a rate 2 per cent lower, upon a guarantee that they contain only good brick chimneys for heating. Of course, a cooking stove can be easily connected with the chimney built from the ground. The fact, some companies are now advocating a modification of the rule on dwellings so as to make this distinction. If all of the companies work in concert, and adopt such a rule, the result must be a great saving of taxable property, and from time to time other distinctions will be made which will lead to other reductions.

"If I were in the legislature and wanted to do the people of Georgia the greatest possible benefit in this line, I would introduce a bill defining how different buildings should be erected so as to bring about the greatest reduction in rates of insurance, at a moderate original outlay. Such a law as this is really needed in the state in order to protect those property owners who build good houses, from the fire traps which are frequently erected by their neighbors, and for which both parties have to pay an extra rate of insurance. It is folly to undertake to legislate against the price of an article, the sale of which cannot be forced. Wise legislation should be friendly legislation towards the insurance companies, which would induce the greatest competition. As an instance, the most rigid laws for the prevention of fires, that I know of, are enforced in France, and as a consequence the rates of insurance are lower there than anywhere else on the globe."

THE HOME COMPANIES. "How about the effects of this law on the home companies?" Mr. Hurt was asked. "If the business should become demoralized in Georgia all of the companies doing business in this territory would, of course, suffer, and each company in proportion to the amount of business done. It is folly to see that this result would injure the home companies any more than the foreign companies, except as would be due to the fact that the home companies do a larger percentage of the business."

"Ten years ago there were only two Georgia fire insurance companies, the Southern Mutual and the Georgia Home, with assets aggregating $1,200,000. These companies at that time did about one-fifth of the business of the state. There are now seven companies with assets aggregating $1,000,000, doing more than one-third of all the business of the state. Some of these companies only do a Georgia business, and of course would suffer more than those that do a general business throughout the states, except where based on account of the reciprocal law."

"To illustrate, Georgia requires a deposit from companies coming into the state of $25,000. No other state requires such a deposit. I think only two others require any deposit at all. Because under the rigid reports that are made to the insurance department of each state, no unsound company is admitted to do business. Now, when a Georgia company goes into another state to do business, it is required to make a deposit of $25,000 under the operation of the reciprocal law. This, you perceive, prevents Georgia companies from entering some of the states. The legislature would induce competition and render a service to the Georgia companies by reducing this deposit say to $5,000. There need be no fear that our efficient comptroller general will ever issue a license to any company that is not sound and able to make good its contracts."

THE HOME CASE. "In regard to the claimer from Rome for the passage of this insurance bill, this is what is called a 'chestnut.' These people are chronic 'kickers.' They are unwilling to do as they ought to do, and as their neighbors have done, to secure low rates, but rather prefer to antagonize prescribed methods. Mr. Fleming's explanation of this matter is very correct. How would it do for Mr. Romeville to pay part of the cost of carrying Mr. Howell's risk? Mr. Romeville has built him a good warehouse and is satisfied with the rate. Mr. Howell refuses to do likewise and is dissatisfied with the rate. That is the whole story. 'I don't think the legislature should have anything to do with it,' said Mr. Hurt in conclusion.

A GRAND AFFAIR.

THE ANNUAL BANQUET OF THE SHRINE WILL BE THAT.

The Shrines Will Not Only Eat, Drink and Be Merry, but They Will Listen to a Feast of Speaking.

The banquet of Yaomah temple to take place in the Masonic hall this evening, and referred to in yesterday's issue, promises to be a more elaborate affair than indicated.

It is confidently expected that a majority of the members, accompanied by their ladies, will be present on that occasion. One feature of the banquet will be five-minute talks by leading gentlemen of this city on subjects designed to be both interesting and amusing. The following is a partial list, and it will be readily seen that the subjects selected have been assigned to gentlemen who have special capacities for handling subjects necessitating that peculiar line of thought.

"Woman—Can We Get Along Without Her," by Illustrations Grand Potentate H. C. Stockdell.

"Masonry—The Foundation of Our Order," by Illustrations High Priest and Prophet F. M. Fremont.

"Why I Quit Farming and Engaged in a Banking Business," by Noble A. W. Hill.

"What I Know About Things in General," by Noble Donald N. Bain.

"The Masonic Press," by Noble John Z. Lawshie.

"The Lodge—How Many Lies Are Told in Thy Name," by Illustrations First Ceremonial Master Ira M. Swartz.

"Our Bachelors," by the oldest rat in the lot, Noble A. H. Grant.

"Our Lawmakers," by a double-distilled Jeffersonian democrat, Noble John J. Seay.

"The Peacemaker," by one who will not see his friends engage in strife, Noble Walter S. Larendon.

"Christian Knighthood, as It Was and Is," by Noble A. G. Howard.

"Our City Fathers," by Noble Porter King.

A leading event of the evening will be the presentation of a handsomely framed picture, heroic size, of Illustrations Grand Potentate Stockdell, to the shrine. Presentation will be made by Illustrations Assistant Rabban A. P. Woodward, and received on the part of the shrine by Illustrations Chief Rabban C. N. Right.

The invitations to the banquet—those received by the members—are characteristic in their wording, and show that the committee has gone on the principle that there is "nothing too good for a Shriner."

Those who have been invited have a right to consider themselves fortunate indeed.

Human Park Items.

The East Atlanta Land Company has received a large shipment of live oak and silver maple trees, which are being planted along the streets of the new addition to Human park.

Mr. George E. King has moved into his beautiful new residence on Edgewood avenue.

Mrs. Cole is moving into her handsome cottage on Druid circle.

Mr. Beath's brick residence on Euclid avenue is nearly finished, and the work on Mr. Harrison's stone residence and Mr. Gould's marble residence is being pushed. Then there will be no more beautiful places in Atlanta.

It will be but a few days now before the residents of Human park will be supplied with water from city waterworks. The pipes are being delivered.

A HEAVY FINE.

W. M. HATHCOCK MUST PAY $1,000, OR SERVE TWELVE MONTHS.

Charged with Cheating and Swindling, and with Obtaining Goods Under False Pretenses—A Merchant in Trouble.

One thousand dollars fine—
Or twelve months confinement in the county jail.

That was the penalty imposed by Judge
Van Epps upon W. M. Hathcock, in the city court yesterday.

Hathcock was a country merchant in the lower part of the county near Fairburn.

He bought goods from A. P. Morgan, of this city, in the spring of 1889, and failing to meet his obligations, was arrested on warrants sworn out by Morgan.

He was bound over to the city court for misdemeanor, in two counts, the first being a charge of cheating and swindling, the allegations being that he obtained supplies of corn, bacon, hay and other things to the amount of $821.35, on May 3, 1889, from A. P. Morgan.

He represented that he owned a certain tract of land in Campbell county, and two mills in the same county in his own right and title.

Complaints set forth that the defendant owned no such mills, and that he claimed ownership falsely so as to defraud the plaintiff.
For that reason it was urged that he was guilty of the crime.

THE SECOND COUNT.
The second count was based on the same allegations, and charged him with misdemeanor, but under another section of the code the crime was defined as obtaining goods under false pretenses.

The case was begun Wednesday. Latham and Arnold & Arnold appearing for the defense, and Solicitor O'Bryan conducting the prosecution.

The case went to the jury Wednesday evening,
and a sealed verdict was handed in yesterday.

HE WAS CONVICTED.
The verdict was not guilty on the first count,
but guilty on the second count.

At noon Judge Van Epps passed sentence, which was $1,000 fine or one year's confinement in the county jail.

Hathcock gave bond in the sum of $2,000,
and gave notice of a motion for a new trial.

Court was then adjourned until the first Monday in January, after having concluded a very busy year's work.

SOME SPLENDID WORK.
Solicitor General Hill's Record for December.

The criminal branch of the superior court will adjourn today until the 6th of January.

Since December 8th, Solicitor General Hill has tried twenty-three cases, and has convicted every one of them, a thing almost unprecedented in the history of the court.

The case of the state vs. J. M. Wilson, ex-actor collector of Fulton county, comes up for a hearing January 13th.

The civil branch of the superior court will adjourn today until the second Monday in January, after a long and arduous session.

Honest Doctors.
All honest, conscientious physicians who give B.
B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) a trial, frankly admit its superiority over all other blood medicines.

Dr. W. J. Adair, Rockledge, Fla., writes: "I regard B. B. B. as one of the best blood medicines."
Dr. A. H. Roscoe, Nashville, Tenn., writes: "All reports of B. B. B. are favorable, and its speedy action is wonderful."

Dr. J. B. Rhodes, Crawfordville, Ga., writes: "I confer B. B. B. is the best and quickest medicine for rheumatism I have ever tried."

Dr. S. J. Farmer, Crawfordville, Ga., writes: "I cheerfully recommend B. B. B. as a fine tonic alternative. Its use cured an excruciating case of rheumatism after other remedies effected no perceptible good."

Dr. C. H. Montgomery, Jacksonville, Ala., writes: "My mother insisted on my getting B. B. B.
for her rheumatism, as her case stubbornly resisted the usual remedies. She experienced immediate relief and her improvement has been truly wonderful."

Dr. G. W. Earle, Pickens, S. C., writes: "I recommended B. B. B. to a man who had suffered for years with a malignant ulcer on his leg, that seemed to resist all other treatment. After using four or five bottles the ulcer began to heal and his leg is now sound and well." sun wed fri

NOTICE
To All Parties Who Contemplate Going to Louisiana or Texas.

The Queen and Crescent route is the shortest, quickest, cheapest and best line to all points west of the river. I do not ask you to look at my map to prove to you that this line is the shortest. You can take the map of all other lines leading to Texas and you will see that they give us almost an air-line from Atlanta to Fort Worth, St. Louis, Kansas City, Birmingham, Meridian, Vicksburg and Shreveport, or New Orleans. This line being the shortest, of course it is the quickest, and it being the quickest, you know it is the cheapest, and being the cheapest it is the best line.

Why, just think of this: Only two changes of cars Atlanta to Fort Worth, Tex., on all of our regular trains. The Queen and Crescent route makes special low rates to all emigrants moving west. Emigrants going this line are put in first-class coaches, baggage checked free, and they are met by agents at the nearest railroad station with through tickets and through check and will accompany them to Atlanta and see that they are put on the fast limited train for the west. Parties desiring information, such as maps, books and time cards, also country maps of Arkansas and Texas, and all other information, can obtain same by writing to or calling on

Southern Express Company—Notice.
Shippers by express during Christmas season will please observe the following directions, by so doing they will save themselves and the Express company much trouble and annoyance.
1. Pack your shipments carefully and securely.
2. Don't let packages with paper strings, "Puck" glassware and other fragile articles in excelsior or crumpled packing paper. Liquids in glass should be packed in sawdust in wooden boxes.
3. Mark your packages plainly with ink, on the package, give full address of consignee and if going to a city give name of the street and number of the residence. Write also on the package your own name and address so that agent at destination may notify you, if from any cause, the package cannot be delivered.
4. Ship early. Don't wait till the last moment, there is always a rush then and you may be too late. If your package is going a long distance it will take time to get it there and trains may miss connection.
5. If you observe these directions in making your shipments they will be promptly forwarded and promptly delivered at destination. Respectfully,

No other organs in the human economy perform a more important function than the Kidneys.

The blood cannot be kept pure unless the Kidneys are healthy and active.

Many a bright intellect has been cut down in the full flower of life because the Kidneys were neglected, and the blood was thereby permitted to become poisoned, and diseased. Every dangerment of the Kidneys are danger signals, and should be promptly heeded and promptly treated.
